Calligraphy and Paper Arts

Sue Davie's passion is calligraphy – the art of beautiful writing. She believes calligraphy is the most expressive of art forms; it is both enhanced by and enhances other creative disciplines.

Sue likes to experiment with all forms of text art; both traditional historical scripts and more abstract free-form mark making, using a range of tools from broad edged pen to pointed nib work to ruling pen.

Sue's calligraphic journey has led her into paper making, printing, book binding, paper weaving, and all things paper.

Having moved to the Lower Blue Mountains in 2025, Sue joined the Blue Mountains Creative Arts Centre to get involved with the local art community and continue to learn new creative forms.

With a formal background in earth sciences, Sue's creations are inspired by science and the earth, peace and nature.
